Dear Mr. Liebman:

With reference to the 23 November 1982 letter sent by Mr. Dave McLoughlin, Acting Chairman, Civil Defense Working Group, Emergency Mobilization Preparedness Board, to Federal agencies concerning their emergency public information and education activities; the Central Intelligence Agency has no responsibilities for providing civil defense information to the public during emergencies and, correspondingly, has no plans to establish such a capability. If I can be of further assistance, please call me on  STAT

Sincerely,

STAT
